1	Pre-employment check - Qualification improvements	We've improved the qualifications section of the pre-employment checks. The system can be updated to show if an applicant needs their qualifications checked or not. When an employer selects 'no', the check will show as 'not required'. A new page at the start of the qualifications section provides an overview of what an employer needs to know before they start. At the end of the section, there is a new check your answers page to show all the qualification information. This allows the employer to review and change their answers. We've made the content on these pages clearer and improved the layout after user feedback.	A simpler and clearer section to ensure employers know what they need to add based on the applicant's checks for their job offer.
2	Offer improvements	We've made the content clearer and more concise in the 'offer' journey based on user feedback. We've added the wording 'pro-rata' after the pay if the employer offers a job that is not full-time.	User needs are being addressed to make this journey easier to follow. Adding the 'pro-rata' label also ensures that users know the salary shown will reduce based on the hours worked.
3	Cookies banner	The cookies banner has moved to the top of the page, so that it is the first thing users see when they reach this page. It also ensures screen readers read this out first and users can decide if they want to have this enabled or not.	The banner is in the most suitable place for users when first arriving at this site.
4	Accessibility improvements	We've made further accessibility improvements in the system. This is to ensure we follow the Government Digital Standards and meet the Web Accessibility Guidelines.
5	Bug fixes	Various bug fixes to improve the system performance.
