1	Applicant task list	We've introduced a new task list for submitting an application. The task list shows the applicant what they need to complete for their applications. Examples of some of the sections are the applicant's right to work status, job history and qualifications. Each task has a status of displays a status of either 'Not Started', 'Started' or 'Completed'. Applicants must complete all tasks before they can submit their application. This new design is coming in a future release for employers creating job listings.	Enables applicants to see their progress through an application.
2	Delete draft application	Applicants can now delete draft applications that they no longer want to submit.	Enables applicants to remove unwanted draft applications.
