

Release date

13 January 2022

Number	Name	Description	Benefit/Value
1	Viewing multiple organisations in the employer dashboard	Users who have access to more than one organisation can view tasks for multiple organisations from their dashboard. They'll be able to search for a listing or applicant across multiple organisations.	Allows for viewing and prioritisation of work across multiple organisations in one place.
2	Improvements to 'Manage users'	We've made the content for adding and managing users more concise and consistent. We've made it clearer what happens when changing a user's role and permissions. If a Super user changes a user's role, it will change across all organisations they have access to. We now send an email to users when their details are updated.	Improved usability and constant content in the manage user flows.
3	View listing improvements	We've made some improvements to the listing view. When employers view a listing, they'll now see the: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> interview lead and panel details (if the interview invites have been sent) list of anonymised applicants (if the listing is published or in shortlisting stage) 	Additional information is available for listings.
4	Application scoring improvements	It's now possible to view and amend scores before shortlisting has been completed. We've also improved the layout of the scoring pages to be more responsive if using a mobile device.	Scoring can be changed, and usability is improved.
5	Important messages banner	The yellow, important messages banner will now only show on the sign in page for applicants.	Usability is improved.
6	Enhancements Changes to flexible working	New rules around flexible working were introduced on 13 September 2021. We've added extra information about this to the 'What is the working pattern' page.	Guidance is clearer.
7	Supporting documents	If a user creates a job listing in English and Welsh with supporting documents, both versions of the documents will show on the published listing.	Both versions of the supporting documents can be accessed if the listing is viewed in either English or Welsh.

Next release date

27 January 2022

Delivered by the NHS Business Services Authority