Disclaimer

Students and prospective students should not rely on the arrangements described in this guide when planning for subsequent academic years. The rules may be subject to review by the Department of Health and Social Care (DHSC) in the future and as a result may change.

Further information on the NHS Learning Support Fund (NHS LSF) will be posted on our website, which students are advised to check on a regular basis. The DHSC and NHSBSA Student Services will not accept responsibility for loss of any type suffered by students who have relied on out-of-date rules

Policy

The rules relating to the NHS Learning Support Fund for 2021/22, are available at www.gov.uk/government/publications/learning-support-fund-5th-edition-2021-to-2022

Who is this guide for?

The information in this guide applies to new and continuing nursing, midwifery and allied health professional students who are:

- attending a higher education institution in England in the 2021/22 academic year
- in active study, whether academic or practice learning
- eligible for student maintenance and tuition fee loan support from the Student Loans Company and;
- in attendance on a specified date depending on their start month.

Students who are not eligible for the NHS Learning Support Fund

You will not be eligible for any NHS LSF payments if you are:

- eligible for an NHS Bursary in the 2021/22 academic year; or
- paid for time off by your employer to attend your course and you continue to receive a wage or salary whilst you train; or
- in receipt of salary support as provided by an NHS trust or other NHS entity, including Health Education England, during any part of your course.

1. What is the NHS Learning Support Fund?

The NHS Learning Support Fund provides additional funding for eligible healthcare students. It is supplementary financial support to the mainstream student loans system, and is intended to help support students attending healthcare courses to gain professional registration.

It is made up of the following allowances:

Training Grant

£5,000 per year academic for eligible new and continuing students

Specialist subject payment

£1,000 for students studying a specialist subject.

Parental Support

New and continuing students with parental responsibility for at least one child may be entitled to up to £2,000 per academic year.

Travel and Dual Accommodation Expenses

Reimbursement of additional travel and temporary accommodation costs incurred as a result of attending a practice placement.

Exceptional Support Fund

Up to £3,000 per academic year for students who find themselves in unforeseen financial hardship.

Am I eligible to apply?

To apply for any of the NHS LSF allowances, you must meet all the criteria detailed below. In addition, each of the allowances has its own specific requirements which are explained in more detail further on.

You must be in attendance on one of the following healthcare courses at a university in England:

*Paramedic DipHE and foundation degree courses are not eligible for NHS LSF.

Students studying paramedicine as a second degree will only be eligible for NHS LSF if they meet the student loan eligibility requirement set out on page 7.

Student loan eligibility

Applicants for any of the NHS LSF allowances must be eligible for tuition fee and maintenance loan support from the Student Loans Company (SLC).¹

When you make an application, you will be asked to provide your student loan award notification² for the relevant academic year to show that you meet their eligibility criteria.

Exception to the student loan requirement

Students who choose not to claim a student loan for personal reasons may still be eligible to access the NHS LSF; however, their eligibility will be assessed on a case by case basis.

Students will be required to demonstrate that they would meet the eligibility criteria defined by either SFE, SFW, SFNI or SAAS, if they had chosen to apply for a student loan.

General eligibility requirements

Residency

You must meet the eligibility criteria defined by one of the following depending on the UK country you normally live in:

- Student Finance England (SFE)
- Student Finance Wales (SFW)
- The Student Awards Agency for Scotland (SAAS) or
- Student Finance Northern Ireland (SFNI)

This will usually be demonstrated by your student loan award notification.

How do I apply for the NHS LSF allowances?

You should register for an online account via the NHS Learning Support Fund application system, which you can access from our website.

Please be aware there is a six month application deadline applicable for each academic year from the point you start active study in the 2021/22 academic year.

Please note that registering for an NHS LSF account is not a guarantee that you will receive any of the allowances. You must meet the eligibility criteria outlined in this guide and your personal eligibility will not be fully determined until you actively submit an application and supporting evidence.

The NHS LSF allowances are supplementary funding only and you should not base your financial plans for the academic year on receiving any them.

¹ 'The Student Loans Company covers Student Finance England (SFE), Student Finance Wales (SFW), Student Finance Northern Ireland (SFNI), or the Student Awards Agency for Scotland (SAAS), depending on your usual place of residence in the UK.

² Issued by SFE, SFW, SAAS or SFNI.

2. The Training Grant

If you are attending one of the courses listed in Section 1 and you are an eligible new or continuing student from 1 September 2021 you can apply for the Training Grant.

The Training Grant is a payment of £5,000 per academic year to help with maintenance and associated study costs.

The Training Grant is not means tested and won't affect any student loan payments you may be receiving.

If you are in receipt of any social security benefits you should check your position with the relevant agency.

When can I start to receive the Training Grant?

The Training Grant is available from 1 September each academic year. If your academic year starts in September / October your academic year will be regarded as being the 12 month period from September to August.

If your academic year begins in January, it will be the 12 month period from January to December, and so on.

New academic year commences between:	Academic year classed as beginning from:
1 September and 31 December 2021	September 2021
1 January to 31 August 2022	Relevant course start month

Payment

Training Grant payments will be paid in three instalments over the academic year and will intermit with termly student loan payments. This is to provide you with a consistent flow of funding throughout the academic year as far as possible.

If your academic year commences in Autumn 2021, Training Grant payments will normally be credited to your bank account in November 2021 and March and July 2022.

You must be in attendance on a specific date to receive Training Grant payments. These will not be released to you until we receive confirmation of attendance from your university.

The relevant dates of attendance are as follows:

Academic year start month	You must be in active study on
September/October 2021	1 November 2021
January / February 2022	1 March 2022
March / April 2022	1 May 2022

You will be required to reapply for the Training Grant each academic year of your course. You should use your NHS LSF account throughout your studies. There is no need to create a new account each year.

Part-time students

If you are attending your course on a part-time basis, you will receive the Training Grant pro rata of the full-time amount, depending on your attendance pattern.

Part-time course attendance	% of full-time rate
Over four years	75% - £3750 per academic year
Over five years	60% - £3000 per academic year
Over six years	50% - £2500 per academic year

This will be paid in instalments over three terms per academic year, the same as for full-time students.

If you leave university or transfer to a course that is not eligible for NHS LSF

You must inform us as soon as possible if you stop attending your course for any reason.

When we receive notification we will stop any further installments of the Training Grant which may have been due to you in the current academic year, and will work out if you are owed any payment or part-payment or whether an overpayment has occurred.

If you transfer to a course that is not eligible for NHS LSF, you will no longer be entitled to any payments and these will be stopped from the month in which you transfer.

If you are overpaid, we will contact you to advise of the amount and how to repay it.

The sooner you let us know that you are no longer attending your course, the sooner we can take action to help prevent overpayment.

3. Additional funding

Specialist subject payments

From September 2020 eligible new students studying one of the specialist subjects below can receive an additional £1,000 per academic year on top of the Training Grant.

Courses starting on or after 1 September 2020 only:

- Mental Health Nursing
- Learning Disability Nursing
- Radiography (Diagnostic and Therapeutic)
- Prosthetics and Orthotics
- Orthoptics
- Podiatry

Students on a dual course that incorporates one of the above will also be eligible for the specialist subject payment.

If you are eligible for the additional £1,000 this will be automatically applied when you make a successful application for the Training Grant.

It will be paid to you in termly instalments at the same time as the Training Grant throughout the academic year.

If you withdraw or transfer from or to another course

If you are not originally on one of the courses identified as a shortage profession, but you later transfer onto a course which is, you will be entitled to the additional amount(s) as applicable from the month in which you transfer.

If you withdraw from your course or you transfer to another eligible healthcare course that is not a specialist subject, you will no longer receive the additional payment(s). These will be stopped from the month in which you withdraw or transfer.

4. Parental Support

Eligible new and continuing students with parental responsibility for one or more children may receive a £2,000 Parental Support payment per student, per academic year.

This grant does not affect your access to childcare support and other means of funding available through the higher education support system or other sources.

Part-time courses

Eligible students studying on a designated part-time course will receive a pro rata amount of the £2,000. Typical amounts are set out below:

Length of your part-time course	Parental Support amount per academic year
Four years	£1,500
Five years	£1,200
Six years	£1,000

Eligibility

You must:

- meet all the general eligibility criteria at Section 1 of this guide; and
- have parental responsibility for a child who is under 15 years of age at the start of the academic year, or under 17 years of age if the child is registered with special educational needs³.

If you are eligible, the £2,000 will be paid to you per academic year, regardless of whether you are responsible for one or more children.

³Within the meaning of section 20 of the Children and Families Act 2014. A child or young person has special educational needs within the meaning of the Act if he or she has a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for him or her.

Application and payment

Parental Support is available from the start of your next full academic year which falls on or after 1 September 2021. Application and payment arrangements are the same as for the Training Grant. See Section 2 of this guide for further information.

When you make an application for the Training Grant, you will be able to apply for Parental Support at the same time.

If you are eligible for both allowances, your payments will be made together on the same payment dates in three termly instalments throughout your academic year.

If you leave your course

You must inform us as soon as possible if you stop attending your course for any reason. When we receive notification we will stop any further instalments of Parental Support which may have been due to you in the current academic year, and will work out if you are owed any payment or part-payment or whether an overpayment has occurred.

If you are overpaid, we will contact you to advise of the amount and how to repay it. The sooner you let us know that you are no longer attending your course, the sooner we can take action to help prevent overpayment.

5. Travel and Dual Accommodation Expenses (TDAE)

Students who meet the general eligibility criteria in Section 1 are entitled to have some of the additional costs of attending a practice placement reimbursed, provided a valid claim is made within six months of the cost being incurred.

How do I claim reimbursement of TDAE?

You can claim TDAE by accessing the claim form through your online NHS LSF account.

Our guidance booklet Completing your TDAE claim – a guide for students and universities is available to guide you through this process. You are strongly advised to refer to the guide when completing your claim to ensure you provide the correct information on your claim form.

We will normally arrange payment to you within 20 working days of receiving your form. Payment will be made via the bank account you nominated when you registered your NHS LSF account.

What can I claim?

Travel costs

You can claim reimbursement of some of your expenses for travel to practice placement for costs incurred over and above your usual daily travel costs to attend university. Below are examples of how excess travel is determined.

Example 1

Student A's travel costs are as follows:

Journey	Cost of daily return journey
Travel from term time address to university/normal place of study :	£5.75
Travel from term time address to practice placement site	£9.00

Student A can claim reimbursement of £3.25 per day (£9.00 less £5.75) via TDAE towards their placement travel costs for the duration of this placement. This is because their placement travel costs are in excess of their normal daily travel to and from university.

Example 2

Student B's travel costs are as follows:

Journey	Cost of daily return journey
Travel from term time address to university/normal place of study :	£10.00
Travel from term time address to practice placement site	£8.50

Student B cannot claim reimbursement via TDAE towards their placement travel costs for this particular placement. This is because it does not cost them an excess amount to travel to their placement site when compared to their normal daily return travel to university⁴.

⁴ If Student B is later required to attend another placement during the academic year and their daily travel costs for that placement were in excess of their normal daily travel to university, they would then be able to receive reimbursement for the new claim.

TDAE maximum rates 2020/21

Cost	Claim limited to
Public transport	Actual cost
Travel in or on the student's own vehicle
Pedal Cycle	20p per mile
Motor vehicle	28p per mile
Parking, Tolls and Ferries	Actual cost

Temporary placement accommodation

As part of the TDAE arrangements you may be able to claim the cost of temporary (secondary) accommodation for the purposes of attending a compulsory practice placement where it is not practical for you to travel to the placement site from your normal accommodation on a daily basis.

If you move to your parental home for the purpose of attending your placement, reimbursement of accommodation costs will not be available to you, but you may still be able to claim the cost of one weekly return journey between the temporary accommodation and your normal term time address.

Placement accommodation rates

Commercial accommodation	Non-commercial accommodation
Up to £55 per night	Up to £25 per night

If you are required to stay in temporary accommodation whilst you attend your placement, you may also claim for travel costs as follows:

- any excess cost arising from one weekly return journey between your normal term time accommodation and your temporary placement accommodation, (as described in the example below) and;

- any excess cost arising from daily travel between your temporary placement accommodation and your practice placement site. Your placement travel costs must still be in excess of normal daily travel to university

Overseas placements

If you are required to attend a part of your course outside the United Kingdom you may be reimbursed for some⁵ of your additional costs to travel to your placement site, providing these:

- have been necessarily incurred (either within or outside the UK) and;

- are in excess of the normal daily return cost of travel between your normal term-time accommodation and your university.

In addition, essential associated costs for accommodation, medical insurance, tests and any fees for visas may also be reimbursed to you.

⁵The cost of any air fares to/from any host country outside the British Isles will not be reimbursed.

6. Exceptional Support Fund (ESF)

What is the ESF?

This is a means tested grant intended to assist students who experience unforeseen financial hardship during their course.

The income available to you, as well as your day to day expenses will be used in the ESF assessment, along with that of your partner, if you have one.

The following types of income and expenses are considered in the ESF assessment:

- Student support from the government for higher education, including your student maintenance loan, tuition fee loan and other allowances such as a Childcare Grant or Adult Dependents Grant
- The income available to you and/or others members of your family if you live with a partner and/or any children

- Income you may receive as an individual, such as part-time or casual employment, means tested benefits, contributions from parents, savings etc.
- Essential expenditure, which includes rent or mortgage payments, travel costs, council tax, regular medication, loan payments and priority debts.

If you have not taken out a student loan

If you are eligible, but have chosen not to apply for a student loan (tuition fees and maintenance) and you decide to claim ESF, you will be asked to show that you have made alternative financial provisions in order to undertake your course without student support. Students are expected to have made basic provision for their essential living costs and their course tuition fees before commencing their studies.

Who can apply for ESF?

To be eligible for assistance you must:

be an eligible student under the general criteria set out in Section 1 of this guide.

demonstrate that there is a shortfall between your income and expenditure, which you are unable to manage by your own actions.

demonstrate that you have exhausted all other available avenues of funding support, including student loans, benefits and university funds, including hardship.

have received at least your first term's Student Loan payment, where applicable.

What is not covered under the ESF?

We cannot award ESF funds to:

cover emergency payments, for example repairs to essential household equipment, replacing stolen items or non-routine car repairs.

help meet the costs of your course tuition fees if you are eligible for, but have not taken out, a tuition fee loan.

substitute funds where there is evidence of money mismanagement, such as overspending on holidays, gym memberships, luxury items, gambling, etc.

make good a default in any assessed contribution to a student loan by a parent, spouse, civil partner or partner.

meet a temporary shortfall in your income, such as where you are waiting for payment of a maintenance award, university hardship funds, reimbursement of travel expenses or a bridging loan.

How much is available?

We can award up to a maximum of £3,000 per academic year. Students can apply for ESF more than once within an academic year if they are still experiencing financial hardship and they have not already been awarded the maximum amount. You can also apply again in subsequent academic years, regardless of whether you have applied or received anything previously.

When can I apply?

You can claim ESF by accessing the claim form through your online NHS LSF account.

You can make an ESF application at any point during your academic year, providing you have received at least your first term's instalment of your student loan, where applicable.

Not all applications are successful and we cannot guarantee you will be awarded a payment. However, students can apply for ESF more than once within an academic year, if they believe they are still experiencing financial hardship or if they received a payment previously but were not awarded the maximum amount.

What evidence will I need to provide?

All ESF applicants are asked to send their last three months bank statements in support of their claim.

Depending on the financial information you provide when you make a claim, you may also need to provide other supporting documentation in addition to your bank statements. Information about what to send is detailed on the ESF claim form itself. Further information on making an ESF claim can be found on our website.

Your university must authorise your form to confirm you have applied for their hardship support first.

Payment

If your application for ESF is successful we will contact you by email to notify you how much you have been awarded. Payment will normally be made in a lump sum within 15 days. You can log into your NHS LSF account to see when the payment will be made to you.

7. Changes to your circumstances

If your circumstances change in any way that may affect your eligibility for any of the NHS LSF allowances, or you are unsure, you should seek advice from us as soon as possible.

Changes that might affect your NHS LSF entitlement and which you must tell us about can include:

Reason for the change	Additional information
Withdrawal from your course (whether permanent or temporary)	You are obliged to contact us as soon as possible so that any future payments that may be due to you can be stopped. Your university will then officially advise us of your last date of attendance and you will be advised of any over or underpayment by email.
Rejoining your course after a period of absence	You may be entitled to payment from the month in which you resumed training, subject to you continuing to meet the general NHS LSF eligibility criteria.
Repeating all or part of your academic year	NHS LSF is not available if you are required to repeat all or part of an academic year. You may be eligible to re-apply once you enter your next course year, where applicable.
Transfer to any other course at the same or a different university	We would need to determine whether your new course and / or university are was eligible for NHS LSF.
Interruption to training due to maternity or adoption	Students who are on an authorised period of maternity or adoption leave from their course may be considered for continued payments of the Training Grant, Parental Support and the Exceptional Support Fund up to the last day of the term in which you started your authorised period of leave. No further payments of NHS LSF will be made until you return to training.
Illness or injury	Students may continue to receive their existing NHS LSF allowances for periods of authorised absence due to a medically certified illness or injury of up to 60 days in an academic year. Subject to continued student loan funding for the period in question, where applicable.
Requiring an extension or extra time to complete your course	If you cannot complete your course in the time normally required NHS LSF payments may be extended for up to 12 months to allow you to complete your training , providing you continue to meet all of the general NHS LSF eligibility criteria.
You are in receipt of Parental Support but cease to have parental responsibility.	You would no longer be entitled to Parental Support, so your payments would be stopped from the month in which the change took place.
You gain parental responsibility for one or more children partway through the academic year	If you apply for Parental Support for a child born partway through an academic year, you may be eligible to receive a pro-rata award of the allowance, which will be payable from the month that the change occurred.
A change to your personal contact details	Please log on to your NHS LSF account and update your details as soon as possible.
A change to your bank account details	Please ensure any bank details you submit are correct or this could result in late or non-payment. Changes to bank details are solely the responsibility of the student.

Fraud

If you knowingly withhold information, or provide false information, in order to receive more funding than you are entitled to, you will be committing fraud. If at any time we suspect that a claim is fraudulent a referral will be made to our Local Counter Fraud Specialists for further investigation.

Students are reminded that if they commit fraud, and it is found at a later date, as well as repaying any NHS LSF payments, they may be removed from the register by their professional body.

Reporting suspected fraud

If you suspect that someone may be claiming funding support from the NHS LSF fraudulently, you can use the Freephone NHS Fraud and Corruption Reporting Line (FCRL) to pass on information anonymously. All calls are treated in confidence and investigated by professionally trained staff. Alternatively, you can report suspected fraud online anonymously at https://cfa.nhs.uk/reportfraud

If a person is found to be guilty of fraud following an investigation, they may be liable to prosecution and/or civil proceedings.
